

Home > Travel BlogAuto Europe Travel Blog - Advice to Travel With...

7 Delicious Off the Beaten Path Restaurants in Nice

Posted by Meghan Donovan

Finding the tastiest cuisine while traveling can be a challenge, especially when you don't speak the local language. To help you enjoy some of the best food & restaurants in Nice, we've asked our fellow travelers to recommend their favorite secret haunts & guilty pleasures.

Check out this delicious list of the top 7 off the beaten path restaurants in Nice, France.

Blog Search

 Unlock

Your Free Guide

Restaurant: Café A' Buteghinna

"Cafe A' Buteghinna in old town Nice is a must. This little gem has amazing provincial food and the staff, super friendly. Awesome crepes! Best of all it won't break the budget."

Website: www.abuteghinna.fr

More Great Content

Our Latest Posts

7 Delicious Off the Beaten Path Restaurants in Nice

Finding the tastiest cuisine while traveling can be a challenge, especially when you don't speak the local language. To...

Contributor: Will Hatton is a writer and photographer. Adventurer and vagabond. Master of the handstand pushup. Conqueror of mountains, survivor of deserts and crusader for cheap escapades. Will is currently hitchhiking from England to Papua New Guinea, a journey which will take over two years. Will blogs over at The Broke Backpacker about his adventures in some of the world's least visited countries.

Back to the Top

Restaurant: Chez Palmyre

"Chez Palmyre serves delicious, traditional French cuisine from a fixed priced menu. The restaurant is located in Old Town and is popular with locals and tourists alike, so making a reservation is a must!"

Website: Visit on Facebook

Contributor: Dana Zelif is the creator of The Talking Suitcase, a family travel blog whose postings are inspired by her family's travels throughout Europe and the United States. Dana, her husband and two children, ages 11 and 9, currently live in Nice,

France.

Back to the Top

Restaurant: La Terrasse

City Breaks from Dublin:

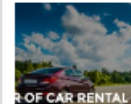

Weekend Breaks in Ireland

The UNESCO World Heritage Site of "The Giants Causeway" is a "must-do" day trip from Dublin.

The three-hour...

Record Number of Car Rental Bookings Secured for Summer 2016

After analyzing the most common rental car pickup countries in Europe from January 1 through March 31, 2016; Italy continues...

Top Deals by Destination

Reader Comments

Kay Dougherty on Auto Europe's Handpicked List of "Must Read" Travel Blogs

Blogs

Thanks for having the intelligence and insight to ...

Kay Dougherty on Day Trips from Florence Italy: Tuscany Tours from Florence

Florence

I have done all of these drives except the one to ...

Sherrill Robinson on Top 15 Must-Eat Off the Beaten Path Restaurants in Italy

Wonderful article now bookmarked for our Italian t...

Mike Taylor on Top 15 Must-Eat Off the Beaten Path Restaurants in Italy

Ca Morel near Lake Garda in Marciaga is one of my ...

Archive

Select Month ▼

"On a nice day, Nice can be unparalleled in its beauty, and the last thing you want to do is escape into a dark restaurant. La Terrasse, up on the 10th floor of the Le Meridien, offers exquisite food to match its exquisite view. Yes, they even have a great niçoise salad!"

Website: www.laterrasse-nice.com

Contributor: Shauna Burke is a chef and Certified Sommelier (CS), currently working as the Estate Director & Brand Manager of a multi-brand California vineyard and winery as well as writing her popular food/wine/travel blog estplantsdrinkwine.com and finishing up her new cookbook.

Back to the Top

Restaurant: La Petite Maison

OLIELO
★ LUXURY REVIEWS ★

"In Nice, I would recommend trying 'La Petite Maison' restaurant. It is located next to the Promenade des Anglais, in the old city district. In terms of cuisine, it offers simple and delicious food from the South of France. I especially recommend the farcis (stuffed vegetables)."

Website: www.lapetitemaison-nice.com

Contributor: Elodie and Olivier are the editors of Olielo, a luxury travel blog focused on luxury destinations, hotels and restaurants. We are based in Paris, France.

Back to the Top

Restaurant: African Queen

"The African Queen restaurant overlooks a yacht club on the waterfront of the Cote D'Azur. Nestled between Nice and Monaco. The restaurant is known for its colorful African styled décor, celebrity sightings and its wood fired pizza."

Website: www.africanqueen.fr

Contributor: Russell Hannon uses lean principles to travel at a fraction of the going rate. He has been on CNBC, FOX, America Tonight, CTV, CBS and Around the World Travel TV. He wrote Stop Dreaming Start Traveling: The Ultimate Guide to Traveling More & Spending Less, and founded Break the Travel Barrier.

Back to the Top

Categories

Select Category ▼

Email Sign Up

Sign up for the latest news and offers

Your Email

Sign up

Restaurant: Pastry Plaisirs

This restaurant is a must see if you are actually serious about your food and specially, your sweets. One thing that really shocked me is that the prices were ridiculously cheap when you consider a few things:

It was, by far, the best tarte au chocolat of my life*

Everything was made from scratch.*

Did I mention how amazing the tarte au chocolat was?*

Everything tasted wonderful and we were all so excited to have found this place by chance just wandering around the city. You shall not be disappointed!"

Website: www.pastryplaisirs.com

Restaurant: Fenocchio Glacier

Photo courtesy of LepetitFranceBlog

"Fenocchio was recommended to us by a French couple and it is probably the most popular ice cream shop in Nice. They are a family-run business serving over 90 flavors of ice creams and sorbets, from the must-have favorites such as chocolate and coffee to interesting flavors like thyme, rosemary, vanilla and pepper, rose, olive, Coca-Cola, and lavender. I really loved eating the tomato basil ice cream while strolling the city at night."

Website: www.fenocchio.fr

Contributor: Jessica Norah is an American cat-loving travel writer at the popular travel blog Independent Travel Cats, and spends her time traveling the world with her British husband Laurence. Currently based in Scotland, the American-British duo also write and run the photography-focused blog Finding the Universe.

Back to the Top

Getting To & From these Restaurants in Nice

Feeling hungry yet? Auto Europe can whisk you to and from any of these fabulous off the beaten path restaurants in Nice, with a great deal on a car rental. We guarantee the lowest rates in France and would be happy to help you find the best car to make your trip perfect!

Facebook

Twitter

Google+

Pinterest

E-mail

This entry was posted in Food, Drink, and Travel and tagged Food Tours, France, Nice, Travel to France. Bookmark the permalink.

City Breaks from Dublin: Weekend Breaks in Ireland →